

IPA Scotland study tour of play places in Edinburgh and the East of Scotland

Tartan, tablet and tig

11th—13th July 2011

Only available in association with the IPA World Conference
www.ipa2011.org

Why not extend your conference visit to take in the beautiful, historic city of Edinburgh and enjoy a flavour of Scottish culture, food and play?

Delegates will be warmly welcomed at a selection of inspiring, inclusive and successful places for children to play. The tour will provide visits to a variety of types of provision and opportunity to discuss and reflect on those experiences together.

Visits will include: Loanhead Community Learning Centre (IPA's Right to Play Award, 2008), Saughton Skate Park (Nancy Ovens Award for Play 2010) and The Yard Adventure Centre (IPA's Right to Play Award, 1996 & 2005), and more.

The tour costs £75 per person which covers:

- transport to and from play provision and the centre of Edinburgh
- lunches
- visit hosting

Participants on the study tour will be responsible for their own accommodation, travel to Edinburgh and evening meals. Hotels will be suggested, but let us know if you are on a tight budget as we can help arrange other low cost options.

A minimum number of participants applies and must be reached by Friday 15th of April (or the tour may be cancelled). Please get in touch to find out more.

We hope you can join us for a Scottish celebration of play!

To find out more about the tour please contact
Alan Rees: at.rees@sol.co.uk

To find out more about IPA please visit:
www.ipascotland.org.uk
www.ipascotland.workwithus.org